

STRETCH OUT DISCUSSION

Early Period Stretch Glass made by Central Glass Works and Jeannette Glass Company

Will be the topic of our Stretch Out call on Thursday, 5/10/18

at 8 pm Eastern, 7 Central, 6 Mountain & 5 Pacific Time.

All are welcome to join in by calling 415-464-6800, followed by ID: 04211974#

Central Glass Works (Wheeling, Pennsylvania) and Jeannette Glass Company (Jeannette, Pennsylvania) are two of the 'minor' companies that produced stretch glass.

Central appears to have used a single bowl mold, but shaped the mold into many forms. They also made two sizes of trumpet-shaped candle holders. Some of their pieces have gold glue-chip decoration.

In contrast, Jeannette used several bowl molds. They also made handled servers with unique handle shapes.

Both companies used a multitude of different colors.

Pictures to be discussed are on the following pages.

Central, page 1

Central, page 2

Central, page 3

Jeanette, page 1

Jeanette, page 2

